LOCAL NEWS.

ROBBERY.-Mr. George Bossart, who keeps a gracery store in the front room of his house, corner of Queen and Fayette streets, was awakened at a late hour last night by a noise at the store door. Hastily arising from his bed on the second floor, he quietly descended the stair steps, armed with a shotgun, and opening the door separating the store from the rest of the house, found that the shutters from the front door had been removed, and, the noise still continuing, he aimed in the direction from which the sounds proceeded and pulled the which they are still confined, with bread added trigger. The sound of the report was immediately followed by that of rapidly retreating lootsteps. The gun was loaded with buckshot, and an examination of the premises this mornand an examination of the premises this morning indicated from the spots of blood observed that some of them must have taken effect. The thieves had removed the shutters, and then, having broken out a pane of glass, had succeeded, by means of a pole with a hook on the end of it, in hauling about fifteen dollars' worth of meat from the pile to which it was lying to the door, and then through the broken pane, and in carrying it off with them.

STRIKE. - The colored laborers employed at the wharves of the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, who were receiving forty cents for unloading boats—the same price paid at the other wharves—struck this morning for fitty cents. Mr. Aitchison, the superintendent of the wharves, immediately informed them that their services were no longer wanted, and that they must leave the yard at once, which they did, and for an hour or so not a man was to be seen about there, but at the expiration of that time Mr. Aitcheson reapeared with other gangs which he had recruited along the strand, and the work of unloading boats and hading vessels was immediately recommenced, and the yard resumed its usual lively appearance. As there was a press of business there, which could not be delayed without loss, the new gang were paid fifty cents per boat, but the discharged gaug-who also came back and attempted to induce them to stop work- were driven off, and told never to come about there again, for they should never be employed there

DEATH OF A STRANGER. -L .st Sunday week a female stranger, who had arrived here the day before and registered as Emily Folquit, was, on account of her strange behavior, taken to the jail and confined as a lunaric. When examined by the physician to the jail the next metaling she was found to be suffering from typhoid fever. In her lucid intervals she state I that she had come from Ohio, via S:aunton, having walked a considerable portion of the way, because she had no money to pay her fare, and that she was on her way to Philadelphia where her brother was residing. She was kept at the jail until two or three days ago, when her condition becoming such that the services of professional nurses were required, she was removed to the Infirmary, where she died yesterday, never having divulged more of her history than is stated above. The Mayor issued an order for the expenses of her funeral this morning, and this afternoon she was buried in Penny Hill, with the many other strangers whose remains are lying in that cemetery of

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. - A colored man examination, charged with attempting to rob the money drawer in the store of Mr. William Rodgers, upper end of King street. named Henry Peters, was before the Mayor Rodgers, upper end of King street. He entered the store mentioned yester lay afternoon, sat down near the stove, and waited there about an hour and ahalf until everybody had gone out but the young clerk, and, while the latter was standing out on the pavement in front of the store, availed himself of the opportunity thus afforded to crawl around the counter and make the attempt, but, unfortunately for him, the drawer was furnished with an alarm beli. the sound of which was heard by the clerk. who, running in, discerned the thief on his hands and knees behind the counter and calling a policeman had him taken into custody

LIQUOR LICENSES. - We are informed by Mr. Duffey, Commissioner of Revenue, that there is no increase in the license tax upon ordinaries. It is rather less in proportion when the rent exceeds a certain amount. Wholesale liquor dealers selling more than a certain quantity pay less than they did last year. Retail liquor dealers selling in quantities less than five gallons, not to be drunk when sold, pay $100. There is a reduction on merchant's licenses, other than liquor sellers, of frem twenty to thirty per cent, according to the amount of purchases. No license is required to sell cider to be drunk where manufactured or by retail it any place in the county where manufactured. A license is required upon all billiard, bagatelle and other tables kept in an ordinary, whether used or not.

ARLINGTON SA BBATH SCHOOL.-The annual election of officers of the Sabbath school took place on Sunday, and resulted, the Washington Republican says, in the election of the following: Superintendent, Mr. Stephen B. Wibit; assistant superintendent, Capt. H. Dwight Smith; secretary, Mrs. Emma J. Buchty; treasurer, Mrs. Vorce; librarian. Mrs. Maggie Crocker. The retiring secretary. Charles C. Bailey, submitted a report for the past year, showing that the officers had been very pusetual in their attendance; also, that Mrs. Bailey had been the most punctual of the teachers, and Hattie Buchly and Henry Vorce, scholars, had been present every Sabbath, and Charles Vorce absent but once, and Mrs. Vorce, Annie Buchly, Nellie Crocker and Walter Buchly absent but four times.

Missing Shaman. - A German named Chas. Omer Smith, a seam in on the schooner D. M. Authory, on the ways at the ship yard, has been missing since Sunday night, and, it is feared, has fallen overboard and been drowned. He was seen to enter the yard on the night mentioned, by the watchman there, and was then in an intoxicated condition, and as he did not leave the yard again that night by the gate through which he entered-and he could only have left it any other way by climbing the high I nee around it, which his condition rendered almost impossible-and as his clothes are still aboard the vesssel, and as he has never been seen since, it is probable that the supposition concerning his death is correct.

ALEXANDRIA CANAL. - The reduction of tolls on the Alexandria canal from five to three cents, as stated yesterday, will, it is supposed, succeed in again attracting to the canal the trade that left it last year, and now comes to this city from Georgetown via the Potomac river. It is understood that most of the coal companies whose agencies are located here are contemplating ordering their consignments to be sent via the Alexandria canal, as the risk, delay and inconvenience attending the route via Rick creek and the river are too great to warrant the continuance of that route any longer, at least while the reduced rates of toll on the canal are in operation.

DEATH OR TAXES. - As one of the city tax collectors was seen on his rounds this morning with his bundle of bills in one hand and a double barrelled shotgun in the other, it was supposed by some that, having exhausted all other means to enforce collections, he had finally come to the conclusion to make their payment or death the horns of the dilemma to are the only certain things.

CHAIN GANG MUTINERS.—An account of a BY TELEGRAPH. mutiny among the chain gang was published in yesterday's Gazette. It was not discovered until after the mutiners had been taken away from the work house that they had almost sucspace in the side of the room in which they were confined, concealing the material in their beds, and had commenced to pick out the bricks when the police arrived and marched them off to the station house, in the cells of to their air and water diet.

THE MCVIEGH CASE AGAIN. - In the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday, Richard Windsor, plaintiff in error, vs. Wm. N. McVeigh; and Ann Gregory, plaintiff in error, vs. Wm. N. McVeigh. In error to the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, Va. Mr. Chief Justice Waite delivered the opinion of the court, denying the motions to dismiss the writs of error in these causes. In refusing to dismiss the writs of error the court merely admits the fact that there is a federal question involved in the decision of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, and that the parties are entitled to be heard in the Supreme GEORGETOWN COAL TRADE. - The Maryland Coal Company resumed operations on Saturday and shipped 900 tons of coal. The Cousclidation Company received during the past week 1,260 tou of coal, and shipped 1,800 tons to eastern ports. The Borden Mining Company have and shipped since the report of Thursday 1,600 tons The New Central Company have received during the past week 2 630 tons, and shipped in the same time 2 576 tous.

EATEN BY RATS -A colored man named Sylvanus Payne, said to be one hundred and twelve years of age, the former slave of the Marshall's of Marshall Hall, was found dead in his house at that place last Sunday morning. He was much disfigured by the rats, which had eaten his eyes and gnawed his face and toes, and which, it is feared, commenced their assault upon him before he was dead, as he lived by himself and was exceedingly feeble.

WARRANT FOR ARREST. - A young, bright and pretty looking mulatto girl, named Annie Jackson, a music teacher, accompanied by her mother, appeared at Justice Whittlesey's office this morning, and on her complaint a war rant was issued for the arrest of R. D. Ruffin, the negro lawyer who one: figured about here. but who now lives in Petersburg, charged with seduction, under promise of marriage, and then running away.

SUDDEN DEATHS. - Thomas Alison, formerly of this city, but for some years past a resident of Washington, died suddenly in that city yesterday while sitting on his bench at work making shoes.

A young lady named Alice Lawrence living near the lower end of Fairfax street died there last night after an illness of but a few moments.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN .-- The accommodation now afforded the residents of Warrenton by the passenger train which leaves that town in the morning and returns in the afternoon, will, as heretofore stated in the Gazette, be ex-

Mr. Charles W. Nowland, while prospecting about two miles south of Fairfax Courthouse, upon the charity of friends. I demand to be a few days ago, discerned evidences of gold deposits, and brought back to this city some samples of the gold quariz.

The visit of the Odd Fellows of this city to their Washington brethren will take place this evening. The steamer City of Alexandria will name, and make me the bye-word and scorn of leave at 6.45 p. m. and returning, leave Washington at 11.30.

Fauquier Primary Election.

WARRENTON, VA., May 4, 1875. - Four ceeded in making their escape by cutting a small precincts yet remain to be heard from, but hole through the wall of that prison. They had removed the plastering and sheathing from a at about nine hundred—a decided success for small precincts yet remain to be heard from, but the primary election. Byrne for Circuit Court Clerk, Downman for County Clerk, Edmonds for Treasurer, and Whitacre for Sheriff, had no opposition at the polls. Mr. John Scott recaived the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney, Cologne, the nomination for Commissioner of Revenue in the first district, Wallace in the second, and Nelson in the third. The competitors of these reclived a creditable and flattering vote.

It is understood that Mr. Pollock, who was announced an independent candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, will withdraw.

Mrs. Tilton's Statement.

NEW YORK, May 4. - The Tribuoe says: -Judge Neilson told a Tribune reporter that he had concluded to take no action with reference to Mrs. Tilton's communication. In the present state of the matter he could not see that any action by the court was called for. In case Mrs. Tilton saw fit to make some further communication he might take some steps in the matter, but as the case now stood there was nothing for him to do. He would not, he said, either have it read or published, but if Mrs. Pilton desired to publish it he would return the communication to her at any time that she might choose to send for it. The contents and nature of the document he intended to keep secret, and all statements in regard to it must necessarily be unauthorized and conjectured.

The Sun says Mrs. Tilton said she had a copy of her communication, and it was prepared to be made public, but until Judge Neilson decides whether or not to read it in court she did not think it would be proper for her to let it be published. It related to the matter of her not being called as a witness, but to give a summary of its contents would be equivalent to letting the full document be made public. The Sun further says: The information comes from a fairly trustworthy source that Mrs. Tilton begins her communication with a statement that she expected to be offered as a witness by the defense, and that through friends she urged upon the members of the legislature the passage of the proposed special act allowing her to testify. Then she argues the mjustice of closing the mouth of an accused person, and appeals to Judge Neilson as an act of propriety, if not of technical legality, to put her on the stand. In conclusion, she asserts her innocence of the crime imputed to her, and declares that the exploration of her conduct in the scandal is due to herself, the defence of Mr. Beecher having left many of her acts open to adverse

NEW YORK, May 4. - The Star, published by Jue Howard, an unqualified advocate of Mr. Beecher, publishes the following as the substace of Mrs. lilton's communication to Judge Neilsou:

Long Voyage.

BALTIMORE, May 4 - The ship King Philip, which arrived in San Francisco yesterday from this port cleared and sailed hence Friday, May 15, 1874, with a cargo of coal.
